Introducing the Student-Directed IEP Process

2023-2024

I am the STAR of the show!

I am SUPPORTED by the adults
in my life!

What does this mean?

- Our students at all ages will be more involved in their CSE meeting and what happens after the meeting (in their education)
- Students' role will be matched to their abilities and comfort level

Why are we doing this?

- Student-directed IEPs are a great way for students to increase the important life skill of self-determination.

Self Determination:

Includes letting people know what you think, making decisions for yourself, setting goals, and working towards them.

It is linked to increases in academic skills, employment, wages, postsecondary education, and an improved quality of life.

Before an Annual Review CSE Meeting...

Students work with their case managers to discuss and understand:

- their strengths
- the things that are challenging for them
- how they learn best (preferences)
- their academic/social/behavioral/emotional goals

*Useful resources for families and educators found at <https://www.imdetermined.org/>

Many of the elementary students come in to the CSE office to practice before hand.
